

Hello, I'm

Lauren Fink

FOUNDER, ATTORNEY AT LAW

Lauren Fink is the founder of Everbright Legacy Law, PLLC. Lauren assists her clients with the implementation of estate, long-term care planning, and special needs. She obtained her Bachelor of Arts degree, with a Major in English Literature from the University of Wisconsin, Madison, and her J.D. from William Mitchell College of Law.

Lauren's warm approach puts her clients at ease as she helps them develop a plan making sure they are confident about their situations and futures.

Those who know me well say that I'm:

- Caring – I care deeply about my clients and their situations and often find myself thinking about ways to help them even when I'm not at work. My highest priority is making sure my clients are informed and confident about their situation and their future.
- Approachable – I'm easy to talk to and make every effort to make sure people don't feel intimidated by me. New clients tell me they feel immediately at ease around me and are comfortable asking questions and sharing the important details about their case.
- Good-natured – I like to focus on the lighter side of things because I believe there is always a silver lining to any situation. I laugh easily and look for ways to make both life and work more fun and enjoyable.

I chose to become an elder law attorney because my own parents were caretakers for many elders in my family. I saw how difficult their job was and wanted the tools to be able to act as a valued guide for others who cared for elders. I was especially inspired by the elderly members of my family and felt a deep calling to dedicate my life to helping them. Honestly, the elderly are my favorite age group. I love connecting with them, listening to their stories and establishing lasting relationships with them.
