

Danielle Winther

GUARDIANSHIP/CONSERVATORSHIP PARALEGAL

As the guardianship and conservatorship paralegal at Everbright Legacy Law, Danielle guides clients through the procedural steps of guardianship and conservatorship matters. When questions or problems come up along the way, she gives families the information and support they need.

For Danielle, building a relationship with each client comes first. She knows that stepping in to protect a loved one can feel overwhelming, and she offers steady support while handling sensitive information with care. Her focus is on listening, collaborating, and finding the most effective way to work together.

Danielle earned a BA in Women's Studies and Psychology from the University of Utah and a Paralegal Certificate from North Hennepin Community College. She is a Minnesota Certified Paralegal (MnCP) and a member of the Minnesota Association for Guardianship and Conservatorship and the Minnesota Paralegal Association.

Those who know Danielle well describe her as:

- Creative – She loves arts and crafts and making custom cakes, and she looks for creative solutions to whatever issue comes up.
- Dependable – People in her personal and professional life know they can count on her whenever she is able to help.
- Hard-working – Her work ethic holds steady at the office, on personal projects, and even out on her kayak, though she also values taking a break when she needs one.

Danielle chose this area of law because it is about protection, which matches her values. She was interested in law at a young age, but the cost of education led her to social services and education instead, including work in shelters for women and children. Once her children were older, she went back to school for her paralegal certificate. That path brought her full circle to an area of law that protects people, often those in greatest need.

Danielle's work fits her values and gives her more time with her family. She is inspired by clients' resilience and their dedication to the people they love, and that keeps her motivated and learning so she can serve them better.
