

Mariana Giovino

SPECIAL NEEDS LEGAL ASSISTANT

As the special needs legal assistant at Everbright Legacy Law, Mariana is the bridge between the firm's Special Needs Planning team and the individuals with disabilities and their families the firm serves. She keeps scheduling, communications, and file management on track for the team.

Mariana's style with clients is flexible. She meets each client wherever they are. She has always been motivated by understanding how others navigate their lives and, when asked, partnering with them to help them move further along their journey.

Mariana earned a BA in Archaeology and Art from Brown University, then an MA in Near Eastern Studies, an MA in Ancient Art, and a PhD in Art History from the University of Michigan.

Those who know Mariana well describe her as:

- Lifelong learner – She is curious about people from all walks of life.
- Passionate – She is all in on whatever she chooses to do.
- Collaborative – She loves working in teams committed to helping everyone succeed.

Mariana has worked with vulnerable adults and children since 2004, most recently with adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities. She has always believed the measure of a society is how well it cares for its vulnerable members, so working alongside teams dedicated to supporting and empowering them is meaningful to her.

Outside of work, Mariana enjoys time with close friends, writing, reading, and being with her family.
